Bartizans are back

After what seemed an eternity, the Bartizans Art Group was finally allowed back to the hall. Armed with mops and cleaning gear we set about scrubbing and sanitising, followed by a well deserved coffee break.

Each member was invited to display a lock down painting (painted during lock down) which was then judged by a secret majority vote.

First prize, a bottle of bubbly, went to a water colour by Juliet (Lucy) Powell and second prize was by Angela Maxwell for a stunning portrait.

We all then set off for lunch at Eastridge, it was great to back!
